

I learned that the trades are a vital part to our survival because without trades there would be no cars, houses, or electricity.

By: Aila C